DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
  - I. Claims 1-11, drawn to a method of conducting R chemical reactions, classified in class 422, subclass 99.
  - II. Claims 12 and 13, drawn to a kit for conducting R chemical reactions, classified in class 422, subclass 102.
  - III. Claims 14 and 15, drawn to a system for conducting R chemical reactions, classified in class 422, subclass 63.
  - IV. Claim 16, drawn to a computer readable data carrier loaded with a computer program system, classified in class 700, subclass 266.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and II/III are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus since it does not recite the particulars of the apparatus of II, such as P containers, and particulars of the apparatus of III, such as a reaction cavity and a liquid handler. Furthermore, the method claimed could be a computer simulating different reactions without physically performing them.
3. Inventions I and IV are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process, such as non-chemical operations, such as selecting questions to ask a student during an evaluation based on answers the student gives.

4. Inventions II and III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions the inventions are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects, since claim 12 recites P contains with constituents and claim 14 recites a reaction cavity, liquid handler, etc., such that the former may be performed by hand and the latter is automated.

5. Inventions III and IV are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention IV has separate utility such as selecting questions to ask a student during an evaluation based on answers the student gives. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

6. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

7. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for all the groups would be different, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Art Unit: 1743

8. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

9. A telephone call was made to Leonard R. Svensson on 9/4/2003 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

10. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
